

MICROSOFT SQL SERVER

DATA HEALTH & PERFORMANCE

Lexel's dedicated team of Microsoft SQL Server specialists offer a broad range of services to meet all your modern data platform requirements.

When it comes to the health and performance of your Microsoft SQL Server environment, a performance review can offer valuable insight, reduce risk and improve performance of your data platform.

Performance review

If you can identify with any of the following, an SQL performance review could help your organisation.

- Your team tells you that you need more hardware.
- Your team has no time to innovate - they are too busy putting out fires!
- You are uncertain about your current patch level.
- You have new DBAs on the job.
- Your SQL reporting is taking too long.
- There has been a SQL outage in the last 3 months.
- You are suffering the effects of poor server performance.

Our services include:

Performance review. Gain valuable insight into your Microsoft SQL Server performance challenges. Includes a detailed action plan.

Action plan. Improve performance with a customised SQL Server action plan designed to help your organisation get the best performance from your current SQL environment. The plan includes high-impacting recommendations, beneficial changes and feature & schema recommendations.

200+ point check. Using best practice frameworks, we will investigate settings, behaviours and metrics - quickly isolating root cause(s) of your Microsoft SQL Server performance problems.

Remediation. Based on outputs from the action plan, Lexel's experienced team can make the changes and / or recommendations for your organisation. Alternatively, we can be available for escalations as you work through the action plan at your own pace.

Monitoring and tools. Using the best Microsoft SQL Server performance monitoring software in the market, empower your internal team to monitor and investigate SQL behaviour.

Managed services and support. Ensure performance problems are a thing of the past with Lexel's innovative, customised managed services with support and SLAs to meet your organisation's unique requirements.

Partners

Collaborating with industry-leading partners within the Modern Data security space, Lexel offers Microsoft SQL Server security audits, performance monitoring and maintenance second to none.
